It bears repeating, I love the Sons of Destiny series – the covers alone warrant purchasing the books. This cover is slightly different in that it has a beautiful confident woman gracing the front. But wow. My husband likes it! grin

Hero – Clan leader Kodan Sin Siin. Stunningly handsome and confident in his own abilities, he is on a mission to bring Tava home to the Plains where she belongs. And into his bed.

Heroine – Shifter Tava Ell Var. Originally from the Valley but shifter none the less. Traumatized by her father's murder and abandoned by her people, afraid of her own kind and learning to cope, she meets Kodan who is insistent on her returning with her by his side to the Plains.

Storyline (from back cover): Tava Ell Var never really knew her mother, but she did know her tragic fate at the hands of a band of cruel shapeshifters-a history set down by Tava's father as a warning about life on the Shifting Plains. But after her father is murdered, Tava encounters a Shifterai warband fighting to rid the Plains of the terrorizing bandits Shifterai leader Kodan Sin Siin is sympathetic to Tava's suffering, but he's determined to bring the wary young woman to the Plains. Because he knows her secret: She, like he and his men, is a shapeshifter. Once she joins them, he knows that she will see for herself the true fate that awaits her on the Plains, and most of all, lose her fear of his people. And, in time, he knows she will find her place is in their fight-and by his side.

My opinion: Jean Johnson has once again pulled me into the world of Shifterai and Mages and left me wishing for a transportation device. Her love scenes are beautiful and her writing is packed full of emotion even the novice fantasy romance reader will understand. Tava and Kodan are perfect for each other and I can't wait to see more of their world. With Shifting Plains being well on its way to being another bestseller for Jean, this is absolutely a must-read. What are you waiting for? grin
